

THE WA WOMEN'S HALL OF FAME COMMITTEE ANNOUNCE THE RETURN TO OPEN NOMINATIONS FOR 2022

In the last year we have enjoyed a wonderful journey reflecting on the 'inspiring' women who were part of our State's early history prior to 1921 and sharing their stories through the touring Photographic Exhibition.

Nominations are now open for 2022, in the categories of: Health, Community, STEM, Culture, Education, Arts, Sport, and Business. Nominations are also welcome for the 'Roll of Honour', to be inducted posthumously.

Championing this year's call for nominations is 2011 WA Women's Hall of Fame Inductee, Ms Janet Holmes a Court AC who said, "As an inaugural inductee, I am very pleased to 'Champion' the WA Women's Hall of Fame's 2022 call for nominations. There are eight categories including the Arts, something about which I am passionate. Art in all its varied forms has the ability to influence society, to possibly change opinions, instil values, and connect communities. All elements exhibited through the 227 WA Women's Hall of Fame inductees. It is important to recognise women's achievements in all areas of community, so I encourage you to think about nominating a woman you know, particularly in the Arts. Let's celebrate their achievements in 2022."

Also championing this year's call for nominations is award-winning journalist, radio broadcaster, and television presenter, Peter Kennedy who said, "Acknowledging the contribution that women have made throughout our vast State – whether in public life, the professions, service industries, sport, or less high-profile roles in isolated areas – is a vital function of the WA Women's Hall of Fame. So is the example and inspiration that these women provide to others to also step up. When that happens, the community is the winner".

The Hall of Fame is an incredible record of the diversity in life for women around our State. It celebrates the social, economic, cultural, and political achievements of women, reflecting on how far we have come, and how far we still must go to realise gender equality.

The WA Women's Hall of Fame 2020 would not be possible without our valued supporters and sponsors; Sea Containers WA, Family Access Services, Centre for Women's Safety and Wellbeing, IGO, St John of God Health Care, RTRFM 92.1, Edith Cowan University, HESTA, and Brookfield Properties.
